for Big Welcome.

Fully a thousand officials, dealers, salesmen and others interested in the Chevrolet cars and the Fisher Body plants at Janesville are expected to be here at a round-up, the first of its kind, on Wednesday, the 28th.

Preparations for a great season on the part of the Chevrolet and for a general get together are being made. All the assembly and production activities at Janesville will be represented. It will be the largest meeting of the kind ever held here in connection with the Chevrolet Motor Corporation plans for the future. Announcement was made by A. F. Young, sales manager of the Chevrolet Wednesday morning.

All dealers in the territory supplied from the Janesville unit have been invited. There is to be a luncheon at the G. M. C. clubhouse at noon, a meeting to be followed with an inspection trip through the plants and a "house-warming" program.

Storm Out Production.
Chevrolet officials from Flint, Detroit and Chicago are expected to attend. Among the officials expected are C. C. Campbell, general sales manager; C. E. Dawson, assistant sales manager; J. F. Lord, advertising manager; and C. E. Cooper, Chicago, regional sales manager.

Gain Day Here.
Janesville will cooperate with the G. M. C. plants here in the entertainment of the visitors.

At a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning, business men were enthusiastic over the Chevrolet program and took action to make March 28 a gala day in Janesville.

During the morning there will be a parade of Chevrolet cars arranged by the Nitscher auto sales company. The Nitscher auto sales company announced that 25 Chevrolet cars made in Janesville will be available to transport any person desiring to be in the parade and, from his home. All that is necessary is a telephone call to the Nitscher company.

Chevrolet posters will be distributed by the Janesville unit for visitors and corner displays. Posters everywhere will be the recommendations of the men present at the meeting. The Janesville band will take part in the program with the Flint, Mich., band from the parent factory of the Chevrolet.

Many merchants voted to decorate their windows for the plant opening in the large store. The different Chevrolet models will be put in the windows and appropriate decorations carried.

March 28 will be Chevrolet day in Janesville.

To Welcome Visitors.
A complete program that will not interfere with that scheduled and arranged by the Chevrolet officials will be worked out jointly by the division.

Suspected.

Plunging into Rock River from the high railroad bridge just north of the city's bridge at Fourth avenue, shortly before 6:50 a. m., Wednesday, a man, as yet unidentified, met death by drowning as he was swept downstream by the swift current which carried him underneath the ice at a point about 75 feet south of the bridge.

Chief of Police Charles Newman is making efforts to connect up the drowning mystery with the report that Carl Arneson, St. Paul section worker, has been missing since that time. While indications point to Arneson being the man who met death, it has not been definitely established and probably will not be until the ice breaks up and his body is recovered. It is practically impossible to find the body.

Berlin.—While the morning newspapers refrain from commenting on the astounding deficit in Germany's budget, as revealed Tuesday night, the appearance of 12 digit figures in the national finances occasions wide comment in political and financial circles.

This discussion concerns mainly the technical arrangement of the republic's domestic upkeep, but the fact that the finance ministry attributes its deficiency so largely to the occupation of the Ruhr injects into the situation a note which finds ready sympathy from the man in the street.

GRIMM DISMISSES $40,000 LAWSUIT AGAINST COUNTY

Holding that under the law no recovery for injuries can be secured by a traveler upon a public highway from a county engaged in performing a governmental function, Judge Grimm in the Rock county circuit court Tuesday afternoon sustained the demurrer "fore tenus," and will enter an order dismissing the $40,000 suit of Mrs. Alma Ryan, guardian ad litem of Roger Ryan, 11 year old son, against Rock county. The court thereby holds that there is no cause of action stated in the complaint.

History of the Case
Suit for damages was instituted, following injury to young Ryan while playing around the cars being used by the Rock county highway department, Aug. 2, 1922, in construction of the Janesville-Evanston concrete road. One of the cars started, and the child in attempting to stop it sustained an injury to his right foot which made amputation necessary. The claim for damages was based at first on the negligence of the county in not protecting the property against the disposition of children to an attractive nuisance.

City carriers are now covering all their routes and experiencing only a little discomfort and inconvenience because of the slush.

When Janesville Was Five Times Blockaded by Real Winter Back in '81

The winter of 1880 and 1881 was the worst ever experienced in Janesville, and for that matter in Southern Wisconsin. One snow blockade followed another in regular succession. The Janesville Daily Gazette had never missed an issue since it had been first published until the fourth of March in 1881. On that day no one went out, there were no trains and no services of any kind. Jack O'Hara, Nick Smith and John Slightfoot got out a sheet 10 by 15 inches for an extra paper. On April 2, 1881, the Gazette reviewed the winter in the following article:

(From the Janesville Daily Gazette of April 2, 1881.)

The winter of 1880 and '81 will long be remembered for the intense cold and railway blockades. The winter was not colder than that of 1875, but there have been more blinding storms, deeper snow, and a longer winter, than have been known since the memorable winter of 1812-3 of which we write a few days ago. The cold weather of the present winter began early in November, and on the 23d of December, the thermometer stood 10 degrees below zero in the morning. On the 23d it went to zero and during the balance of the month it ranged from 6 to 35 degrees below zero. In December there were nine days when the thermometer went below zero, the coldest day being the 28th, when the mercury marked 18 degrees below zero. On the 29th it stood 16 degrees below, and remained at 10 degrees below all day. Snow fell the 7th of December but not enough to bring the sleighs, and on the 23d there occurred another light snow fall, which barely covered the ground.

Twelve Days Below Zero.

During the month of January there were twelve days in which the thermometer stood below zero. The coldest of these days were the 10th, when the thermometer stood at 30 below zero, and the 14th, when the indication was 28 below. The first snow in January occurred on the 13th, when four or five inches fell and which was badly drifted, but not enough to blockade railways. It snowed nearly all day on Saturday, January 20th, and though there was a pretty high wind, the fall did not materially interfere with the running of trains. On the day following it snowed lightly during the day, but there was no drifting of the snow of any consequence.

In the month of February, there were four days when the thermometer stood below zero, the coldest being the 25th, when the mercury indicated 14 in the morning; and the next coldest was the 17th, when it stood 11 below.

The First Blockade.

The first storm of the winter which completely blocked the railway and caused a general suspension of business, began on Friday evening, February 11th. The fall of snow was exceedingly heavy during the following 20 hours, and a high wind blew from the north. The storm was perfectly blinding, and the snow was piled in drifts in every direction. No trains departed from or arrived at Janesville on that day. The trains on both the Northwestern and the Milwaukee and St. Paul, which were caught out, were in a confused condition. Sunday being clear, both companies put on heavy forces, and on Monday, the 14th, trains were again running on time.

The Second Blockade.

On Saturday, the 25th of February, it began to rain, and during the afternoon and evening the fall was very heavy, which continued till Sunday morning. At eight o'clock it began to snow, and the wind blew with almost terrific force until after midnight on Monday morning. There seemed to be a contest between the snow and the wind as to which should be master of the situation. On Monday the storm gave way, and clear weather followed. All trains were suspended, none arriving at or departing from Janesville. The first train to arrive from Chicago since Saturday, was late on Tuesday evening of the 1st of March. On Wednesday the 2d, there was another train from Chicago, but from no other point, the roads being badly blocked.

The Third Blockade.

Hardly had the storm of Sunday passed over before another came pouring down from the north, playing havoc with railway trains and business generally. Late on Wednesday evening, the 2d of March, clouds of intense blackness overhung the city; the temperature became moderate, and before ten o'clock there began to sweep over the country a storm more intense in severity than any which had been known in this country for many years. During Thursday the 3d, there was no cessation of hostilities. The falling snow was exceedingly heavy, and the wind came from the south at a great velocity. Of course, no trains arrived or departed, and business was at a standstill. Friday very little better than Thursday. The storm kept on in all directions. Business was driven from the streets, and the wind, snow, and drifts, held the fort. Probably two feet of snow fell over the level, and on the streets the drifts ran from four to eight feet high. The day was cloudy, but no wind was blowing or snow falling. The railways attempted to do nothing until the storm passed away. Large forces of men and engines were then put on the roads in all directions. The drifts in the cuts were deeper than were ever before known in the history of the roads. The first mail train arriving at Janesville since the storm, came in on Monday evening, the 7th, which was the first mail of any kind received since Wednesday, the 2d, and no mail came from any other point. On Tuesday, the 8th, only one mail was received, that being from Chicago, and no Madison or Milwaukee mail was received until the 10th. Trains did not begin to run on schedule time till Thursday, one week from the time the storm began.

The Fourth Blockade.

On Saturday, March 12th, it began to snow early in the morning and continued all day with a high wind. The fall of snow in Janesville was probably not more than four or five inches, but between Janesville and Chicago the fall was heavier and the drifts more serious. The railways were again blocked, and the Janesville accommodation which left here on Saturday morning, did not reach Chicago until the next Monday afternoon. No trains arrived in Janesville except from the north, all others being suspended or held fast in snow drifts. On Monday, the 14th of March, the roads were opened, and trains were again placed on time.

The Fifth Blockade.

Friday, the 18th of March, was one of the pleasantest days of the whole season. The sky was clear and the thermometer stood 42 degrees above zero at mid-day. It was indeed spring-like and the people had cheering hopes that the last storm of the season had been met. But these hopes were blasted. On Saturday morning it began to blow and snow with perfect fury. In some respects it was the worst storm of the season, because the snow was heavier. The wind was the highest that had been known for many months. In Milwaukee the speed of the wind was 25 to 40 miles an hour, and in Chicago the rate per mile was not very different from that at Milwaukee. This condition of things lasted until Sunday morning, when during the meantime some ten or twelve inches of fresh heavy snow had fallen. Of course, the roads were again blocked, and in some respects worse than ever before. Only one train arrived in Janesville, that being from Chicago, and that was from Madison. In the midst of these almost overpowering discouragements, the railways put all the force they could command at work on the roads, and on Wednesday, the first mail since the Friday previous, came from Chicago by way of Alton. The road direct from Janesville to Chicago was not open until the 24th, more than one week after the storm.

The depth of snow can hardly be estimated on account of the drifts. In the woods, where there was little chance of drifting, the average depth is said to have been about three feet.

On the 2d day of April there is a quantity of snow still on the ground, and in many places drifts are from two to four feet high, and with the thermometer at from 15 to 25 degrees above zero, there is not much hope of an early spring.

GRIMM DISMISSES
$40,000 LAWSUIT
AGAINST COUNTY

The court heard the arguments on the demurrer after the plaintiff had filed an amendment to the complaint alleging that the defendant county was doing work by day labor and that the county could recover for day labor placed at its disposal for employees and freemen.

The county argued that the defendant county as advanced by Attorney Paul M. Grubb, of Nolan, Dougherty & Grubb, appearing for the defense together with District Attorney William C. Grimm, was that it is a contractor in this state that the building of a road is a governmental function, and the plaintiff as a traveler on the highway cannot recover for day labor unless under the provisions of Section 1329 of the statutes which refers to claims for damages due to defects in the highway. The county contended that there was no cause for action set forth in the complaint.

Raising his argument of Section 1329 of the statutes, which provides that "every employer shall furnish employment which shall be safe for the employees therein and shall furnish a place of employment which shall be safe for employees therein and shall use safety devices and safeguards, and shall adopt and use adequate and proper means reasonably adequate to render such employment and places safe for employees and freemen," Attorney A. C. Munn, of Janesville, argued that the county had not complied with the provisions of the statute.

Statutes Must Be Strictly Construed.

Attorney Grubb contended that every statute which increases the liability of a city, county or other municipality must be strictly construed and that nothing can be implied, and that therefore no liability of the county arises. That negligence, if there was any, which was not conceded, does not render the county liable.

The court ruled that the statute does not change the law at all and that no liability can be predicated against a county when it performs a governmental function, as it was in this case in building a concrete highway.

Judge Makes Statement.

"When the performance of a governmental function, a county is not liable as a corporation or individual would be," said Judge Grimm, "and like any other municipality, are liable in the creation of a nuisance; but when performing a governmental duty, although using dangerous machinery, they are not liable and our supreme court has so held, and this court must be governed by its decisions. There is no liability in this case, I am firmly convinced."

The case may be carried to the supreme court by the plaintiff. Under the statutes, notice of an appeal must be served within 30 days after the formal order sustaining the demurrer is signed by the court.

Child in Court.

Mrs. Ryan, with little Roger Ryan, hobnob at a crutch, and the stump of his leg covered with a leather case, together with her other children, sat in the rear of the court room while the motion was argued. Mrs. Ryan lives at Park Ridge, Ill.

Costs of the action were guaranteed by the plaintiff and the latter must pay the county's expenses.

DRY FORCES PLAN TO PUSH DEMAND FOR REFERENDUM COUNTER ATTACK WILL TAKE COMMITTEE BILL FORM.

ISSUE IS DIRECT Anti-Saloon League Action Puts Next Move Up to Wets of Wisconsin.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison—The counter move of wets to attempt to force the vote to repeal or emasculate the state prohibition enforcement statute, will be made next week when a committee bill is to be introduced into the senate calling for a referendum of the people of Wisconsin on the Eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution. E. N. Hicks, legislative counsel for the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, announced Wednesday.

With this move, the dries say they will bring the one direct prohibition issue before the legislature. Their bill represents the wets' view of the situation. They have made this session, will call for a direct vote on the prohibition amendment at the November general election in 1924.

Predicts Dry Legislation.

"At the same time, we show the wets that the two or three wets in favor of the prohibition amendment to the constitution, we will carry an overwhelmingly dry legislation for the 1925 session," Mr. Hicks said. "There is no doubt in the minds of voters favor prohibition, and it is because of that fact that the wets will probably oppose this attempt to bring an expression from the electorate."

"We believe that as long as the people have set up a prohibition amendment to the constitution, that amendment is sacred and they will have this issue carried to the vote in 1924 and are leaving our bill drafted to force this point."

Now Up to Wets.

"It is up to the wets now either to show they are sincere in their protestations by supporting our bill, or to show their insincerity by attempting to repeal or emasculate the amendment by introducing a referendum, without determining the wishes of the people."

The prohibition fight is getting under way in the legislature, and will break with full force when the state affairs committee of the assembly Thursday when the Sachtjen bill, amending the search and seizure section of the Wisconsin law, is up for hearing. This measure would make enforcement of the prohibition law practically impossible, the dries claim.

Four women were chosen to sit as jurors when the $250,000 damage suit of the Highway Trailer company, Edgerton, against the Janesville Electric company, is tried in the Rock county circuit court at 2 p. m., May 21. Attorney E. H. Thomas, of the Madison firm of O. H. Thomas, Butler and Stroud, examined the jurors for the Trailer company and Attorney Otto Oeschel, of Edgerton, for the Electric company. The jury was chosen Tuesday afternoon. The members are: E. M. Scriven, A. R. Calkins, J. Houghton, Fred Gehlert, Mr. Neil, Mrs. Henry Austin, William Hackbart, Mrs. May L. Bauehle, George W. Cleland, M. J. Harper, Mrs. Tina Ellis and Mrs. Alice Reed.

Boat Houses Are Damaged as Ice in River Breaks

Many who own boat-houses on Rock river, will have a difficult time repairing their houses this spring. About every other boat-house near the Fourth avenue bridge is leaning on its side, one has only the roof of it showing above water, while others are broken and damaged so they will probably have to be rebuilt. The breaking up of the ice and severe winds with the recent blizzards, are responsible for the damaged boat-houses. This damage to boat-houses happens every spring but it is believed to be worst this spring than in several preceding ones.

GAME BIRDS GIVEN SHELTER ON FARM

Edgerton—Game birds in this vicinity are having plenty of food in three acres of standing corn on the farm of H. M. True, sportsman and pioneer of this city. Mr. True directed his tenant to leave the corn standing last fall and it is reported that many grouse are wintering there.

CABBAGES SLUMP, ONIONS ADVANCE

Fruit and Vegetable Market Reacts to Official Arrival of Spring.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago—Reaction of the fruit and vegetable market to spring officially arriving Wednesday, was indicated by a declining cabbage market and a rising onion market. The United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics said Wednesday.

Only an estimated 1,500 cars of onions remained to supply the old market during the next six weeks, an average of 40 cars a day until the end of the season. Shipments during the week ending March 17, decreased 30 per cent from the previous week, falling 270 cars. Cabbages, on the other hand, showed a marked advance in the last week, the report said quotations on the two products were advancing sharply while cabbage declined.

The season for old cabbage is drawing to a close. At New York, Danish stock dropped from $5 to $2.0 a ton and closed at $4.50 to $6.00. The Chicago market for Danish type as of last Monday was $4.50 a ton. Shipments of old stock decreased to 200 cars and new stock to 231 cars.

Only tomatoes and mixed vegetables showed increased movement during the week under report.

Then don't delay! Many of the most serious kidney troubles are the result of germ diseases. Too often the real trouble is lost sight of until the disease has taken firm hold. If our kidneys are falling behind, don't wait. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Janesville Folks:

S. Minnick, fireman, 1206 Josephine St., says: "On occasion to take Doan's Kidney Pills about five years ago when suffering with kidney and bladder trouble and they did me up in good shape. Since then, I had another slight attack, when my back gave me no considerable trouble. I asked a doctor, and he interfered with my work and my kidneys acted irregularly. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the Drug Co. and used them for about a week and the same good results were obtained."

Mrs. Wm. Mohr, 318 N. Academy St., says: "About two years ago I was suffering from an attack of kidney trouble. I went to the People's Drug Company and got some Doan's Kidney Pills. I used Doan's and was cured of the attack. I have had no return of the trouble since. I know Doan's are a good and reliable remedy and I heartily recommend them to others."

Chicago Review. Buying on the part of houses with eastern connections brought about a material upturn in the price of wheat Wednesday during the early session. Indications of new export business on this side of the Atlantic, together with higher quotations at Liverpool and London, were a bullish influence. Besides, an advance in French exchange rates tended to strengthen wheat values. The inference being drawn that more stable economic conditions in central Europe were looked for. The opening, which ranged from 1 1/2c higher, with May $1.22 1/2 to 1.23 1/2, and July $1.17 1/2 to 1.18 1/2, followed by a slight reaction. Smallness of receipts and of rural offerings gave independent strength to corn and oats. After opening 1 1/2c higher, May 75 1/2 to 76 1/2, the corn market held close to the range. Oats advanced 1/4c to 1 1/2c.

It was estimated that 600,000 bushels, including 200,000 bushels of wheat and 400,000 bushels of corn, were shipped to Europe. Profit-taking sales eased the market in the last half of the session. SHORT SESSION IS
ASSEMBLY'S GOAL

Lower House Plows Through Mass of Business: Senate Is Slower.

Madison.—Both houses of the legislature are working toward an early adjournment. With the assembly plowing through hundreds of bills, leaders in the house believe now that an adjournment by May 15, as called for in the resolution introduced Tuesday, will be possible.

The senate has not yet settled down to serious work and is still jockeying with bills, but notice has been served that hasty business will have to be considered as it comes up on the calendar. Monday and Saturday meetings also are planned, in order to dispose of the flood of small bills being sent over by the assembly.

In the assembly all lower house bills will have been heard by the committee before the second week in April. After that time the lower house will be acting principally on house measures. An effort is being made to clear up the business within 60 days and the opinion is growing that this attempt may prove successful.

WELFARE SPECIAL IN 18 COUNTIES

Child Clinic on Wheels to Start
Swing in Walworth During April.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison.—Eighteen Wisconsin counties will share in the benefits conferred by the Child Welfare Automobile Special in 1923. The schedule for the second season's itinerary of this motorized child health center was announced Friday by the state board of health. The special will visit rural sections of the state from April 2 to late November.

Physical examinations for children, limited to those of infant and preschool age, will again be given by Dr. Blanche H. Hoyer-Rivers. During April Miss Alma Ahlstrom, community nurse for Chippewa Falls, will accompany the truck. The county nurse will assist in each county visited.

The schedule follows: April 2-5, Walworth county; 5-24, Waushara county; 23-27, Washington county; April 30-May 11, Fond du Lac county; 14-20, Manitowish county; May 25-June 2, Wood county; June 25-July 13 (except July 2, 3, 4), Marathon county; 16-27, Vilas county; July 30, Aug. 10, Douglas county; 24, Polk county; Aug. 27-Sept. 7, Cass county; 10-13, Pepin county; 17-21, Buffalo Co.; 24-28, Crawford Co.; Oct. 1-12, Vernon county; Oct. 15-Nov. 2, Columbia county; 2-8, Green county; 12-23, Jefferson county.

On its 1922 tour of 14 counties the staff examined nearly 4,500 children, the great majority of whom were found with defects which could be remedied by competent treatment. This in all cases was recommended and the help of the family physician directed. Numerous cases of crippled and deformed children were added to secure treatment in Bradley memorial hospital or local institutions. The services of the special are given without charge. Appointments for children are arranged by mothers with the county nurse in each county visited.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY DUE FOR INNINGS. DECLARES BRYAN

The people was so uniformly against the party in power.

Republicans Disappointed. Claim. "Nothing has occurred since the election last November to indicate a change in the trend. In fact the attempt to pass the ship subsidy bill in the republican party there is a widespread dissatisfaction.

"The republicans had more than two-thirds membership of the house and yet only passed that bill by 24 majority and couldn't have passed it at all but for a provision which the republican senate struck out, namely, the one concerning annual appropriations for subsidy.

"There were 76 republicans defeated in the last elections for congress and the democratic administration was lost. Of the 76 republicans whose districts went over to the democratic party, 66 voted for the ship subsidy bill in the house, showing that without these republicans, who had been defeated, the bill would have been badly defeated in the house.

"When you remember that 96 republicans joined with the democrats in defeating the attempt of the republican leadership to reduce the tax

CITIZENS HAVE THREE DAYS TO INSPECT H. S.

Three days of inspection of the practically completed new Janesville high school by the public will precede dedication exercises at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 27. The doors will be opened Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, there being no school the latter two days because of the annual spring vacation that week.

Most of the visitors Sunday would come in the afternoon, and it is for that reason that the hours of 2 to 6 were set. There will be guides at the building to show strangers through, and many will be interested in seeing some of the complicated machinery that makes this building almost a little city in itself.

The building will be open all day Monday and in the evening from 7 to 9, when many who otherwise could not see the building, will have the opportunity.

Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college, is to be the main speaker at the dedication exercises, while a number of state and local officials will be on the platform and will talk. The high school bands will play.

DAHL TO RUN FOR CONGRESS?

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison.—Reports in well-informed political circles here are to the effect that Speaker John L. Dahl of the assembly will be a candidate for congress in the 1924 election, in opposition to Congressman James Frazier in the tenth Wisconsin district. The speaker is being urged by La Follette progressive leaders in the district to allow his name to be used as an opponent to Congressman Frazier.

Need Man Who Will Fight. "It is not necessary for a man to be well known," he said. "Nothing makes a man so well known as to be a candidate. What we need is a man who will grow and become known. The masses would prefer a man who is not known, but who will be their friend, rather than a more prominent man who will be their enemy."

Mr. Bryan Tuesday began his sixty-fourth year. He looks young and vigorous, in fact younger than he did when he was secretary of state and more like a young man in 1905.

The commoner first ran for the presidency 27 years ago, but doesn't look a bit like the veteran politician that he is and fully expects to go on the stump in the 1924 campaign.

"What well known candidates would you mention?" was the next question propounded to Mr. Bryan.

"I don't know," he said. "I don't know what you mean by that. I don't know what you mean by that. I don't know what you mean by that."

Two Girls Chosen for Declamatory Contest, Friday

Misses Genevieve Hughes and Catherine Jaman will compete for honors in the declamatory contest at the high school, Friday, as a result of the elimination meeting Monday, when seven girls gave their selections before three judges, members of the school faculty. Miss Hughes' declamation was "On the Other Side of the World," and Miss Jaman's, "The Sea Gull." Others who entered the contest were Misses Agnes Crook, Dorothy Jensen, Eleanor Bailey, Louise Hunt and Marjorie Darby. The declamatory contest will be held Thursday and the final meeting Friday, probably before the high school body. Miss Mildred Mandel of the public speaking department, is chairman.

THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY of First Lutheran Church, Madison & Bluff Sts., invite guests to a picnic, luncheon and apron sale Thursday afternoon, March 22. Cakes and coffee served for 15c.

ANOTHER CHICAGO BANK IS CLOSED

State Bank Examiners Take Charge of Accounts for Close Scrutiny.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago.—Four years ago Samuel W. Maltz discarded a blue uniform of a passenger train brakeman and became president of the Sixteenth Street State bank.

About 20 years ago Fred W. Popp, recently found dead with a bullet hole in his head, dispensed with the grey suit of a mail carrier when he started on a financial career that carried him to the presidency of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank.

Today both of the institutions were closed. The Logan Square Trust and Savings bank depositors and stockholders were engaged in reorganizing the institution and making good losses reported at $400,000, and the Sixteenth Street State bank accounts were being subjected to the scrutiny of state bank examiners.

The doors of the two banks were locked within a period of two weeks by State Bank Examiners, the Six-

Teach Love for Good Literature, Plea of Doudna

An unusually interesting program was presented in the music room at the high school, Tuesday night, under auspices of the local branch, National Council of Primary Education. E. G. Doudna, secretary of the State Teachers' Association, gave the professional lecture on "Spontaneous Development through the Cultivation of English," urging that over emphasis of mechanics makes children self-conscious so that in many instances they are afraid to express their thoughts freely for fear of being reprimanded for errors in expression.

Correct habits of expression may be developed through drills and by keeping certain standards always before the children, he said, and that the genre from literature should not be made distasteful or mutilated by being used for drills in analysis and punctuation.

"We must separate the drillwork from the teaching of literature in order that the child may learn to love the best literature," said Mr. Doudna. "The child must have a background in order to appreciate the beauty in the poetry and prose to be studied. Poetry is more than rhythm. Its value lies in the way the sentiment expressed relates it-

Teach Love for Good Literature, Plea of Doudna

An unusually interesting program was presented in the music room at the high school, Tuesday night, under auspices of the local branch, National Council of Primary Education. E. G. Doudna, secretary of the State Teachers' Association, gave the professional lecture on "Spontaneous Development through the Cultivation of English," urging that over emphasis of mechanics makes children self-conscious so that in many instances they are afraid to express their thoughts freely for fear of being reprimanded for errors in expression.

Correct habits of expression may be developed through drills and by keeping certain standards always before the children, he said, and that the genre from literature should not be made distasteful or mutilated by being used for drills in analysis and punctuation.

"We must separate the drillwork from the teaching of literature in order that the child may learn to love the best literature," said Mr. Doudna. "The child must have a background in order to appreciate the beauty in the poetry and prose to be studied. Poetry is more than rhythm. Its value lies in the way the sentiment expressed relates it-

DO YOU KNOW WHY THE GEAR-SHIFT IS DIFFERENT?

The design of Dodge Brothers gear-shift takes into consideration the natural inclinations of the driver.

To start, you throw the lever forward. To reverse, you pull the lever backward. And when the car is running in high gear—which is about ninety per cent of the time—the lever is in a forward position, out of the way, where it does not interfere with passengers, robes, or luggage.

Moreover, the transmission, developed and patented by Dodge Brothers, is so designed that the countershaft—used in intermediate speeds and in reverse—is disconnected when the car is in high. There are no gears in mesh. Power is transmitted directly from clutch to rear axle.

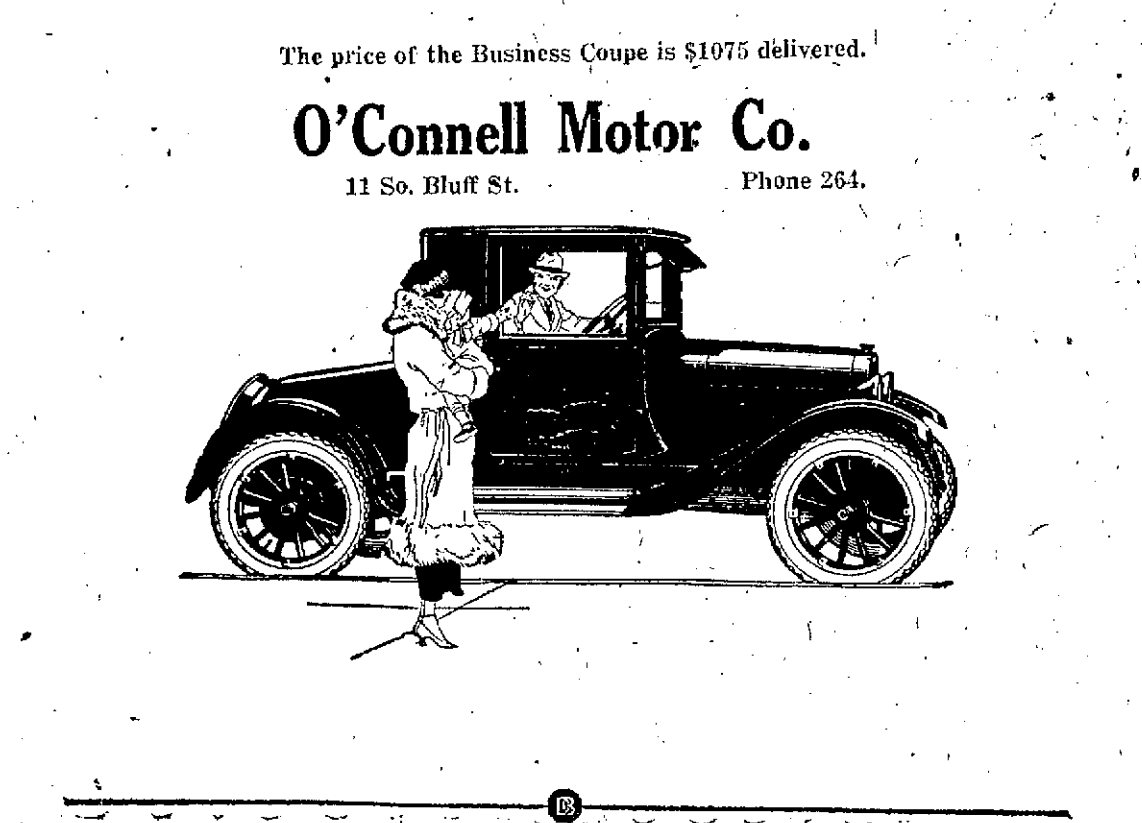

This exclusive feature prevents the loss of power through friction, reduces gear-box noises and eliminates a vast amount of wear.

That is why the gear-shift of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is different.

The price of the Business Coupe is $1075 delivered.
